“My summer studio in the New Brunswick marshlands has become the crucible for the transformation of my experience of the mud flats and the coastal terrain.”

“I am frequently asked why I have chosen New Brunswick. Perhaps New Brunswick has chosen me. There is a magnetism in this land that overwhelms me and paradoxically empowers me, flooding me with images. It is addictive, ceaseless in its tug at me, forcing me to spend more time each passing year looking, thinking and working.”
